A New School Year

On September 13, the gates of the Farm School opened to 213 boys and girls and their parents. Their arrival enlivened and reawakened the campus. During registration and orientation students and their parents became acquainted with the School and the staff. It was especially exciting for the 82 new students, 62 entering the Lyceum and 20 entering the Scholi. This year, the Farm School's educational programs attracted twice as many applicants for the Lyceum as it could accommodate. The School also attracted 19 transfer students to its advanced academic programs and boarding activities and facilities.

Because of this growing interest in the School over the past several years the School has established certain criteria for its selection process. Each applicant is asked to complete a questionnaire and the School then bases its selection on the following:

Students accompanied by their parents register for the new School year.

- The student's interest in agricultural fields and his/her family involvement in agriculture.
 - The student's grades which should not be below 13 (A=20). He/She should not have failed in any class the previous year.
 - Students from broken families are reviewed with care.
 - The students and their parents must visit the School at least once and meet with a staff member so that they can form a personal opinion of the candidate.
- A final decision on each applicant is taken by a committee appointed by the Director of Education.

Classes began on September 15 after morning services at the School's church. Students devoted their morning to academics and their afternoon to lab work and practical training in horticulture and animal husbandry.

To complement the rigors of the School week the Boarding Department sponsored a gathering in the Assembly Hall on the first Saturday night of the School year. The entire Student Body arrived in costume and danced, sang and performed skits in celebration of the new School year.

Staff Training At The American Farm School

Among the American Farm School staff members who have benefited from advanced training in the United States during the past year are Dimitris Pantazis and Socrates Adamides. Dimitris directs the School's recreational program and serves as a dormitory monitor and counselor. Socrates teaches Greek language and World and European History at the School. In addition 30 staff members studied basic computer technology for several weeks in Thessaloniki.

Dimitris is Back in Action

Dimitris spent the entire 1981-82 school year at Cabrillo College in Santa Cruz, California. He graduated with an A.A. degree in Recreation and Psychology with special instruction in the recreation movement known as "New Games" which emphasizes cooperation rather than competition. To complement his academic pursuits Dimitris became involved in the Special Olympics, taught Greek folk dancing and helped to organize the Community Spirit Day in Santa Cruz. In all these activities Dimitris incorporated the philosophy of "New Games" and is currently implementing the same approach in his recreation programs at school.

Socrates Chats with Farm School Staff (in English)

This summer Socrates Adamides went to Connecticut to study English at the University of Bridgeport. The intensive 2 month course was composed of 2, 4-week sessions and it combined the use of books, pictures and informal conversation sessions. Socrates, who has returned speaking quite a bit of English, was impressed with the organization and quality of teaching he received there and hopes to adapt some of the techniques used at the Center to his classroom.

New Faces In The New York Office

Sally Livingston, the new Associate Director for Trustee Affairs at the Farm School.

Sally Livingston has joined the Farm School as Associate Director for Trustee Affairs, replacing Philip Geier who has accepted a position with the Experiment in International Living. Sally began her career as an Assistant Professor of Cultural History and the Director of Cultural Affairs at Hampshire College. She has also had extensive background in development with the consulting firm of Douglas M. Lawson Associates and with the Seattle Opera. The Search Committee of the Trustees reviewed over 200 applications and interviewed several candidates before unanimously recommending Mrs. Livingston. She and her husband, William Livingston, a tenor with the New York City Opera, live in Manhattan and are looking forward to becoming a part of the Farm School family.

The youngest addition to the Farm School family, Emily Kathryn Stimson, was born on September 13 to Kathryn and David Stimson. Kathryn, the Assistant to the Associate Director and Program Coordinator is currently at home with her daughter on maternity leave. She will return to her position in February on a part-time basis. During the interim Anne Gabriel, just back from a year at the School in Greece, is assuming her responsibilities.

Shahrokh and Farhad Taleghani have been volunteering their time to the School for a year now spearheading the efforts to establish a computer in the New York office. Their time and effort have been invaluable.

Eileen Goldner, the Secretary who can answer all your questions and more, is in the office every day and Mateel Kubik, the School's most faithful volunteer continues to ensure that your Sower arrives on a regular basis. She handles the mailing list and knows the Farm School family intimately. Please drop by the office when you are in the City and meet the American contingency.

A Fond Farewell To Joice Loch

On Thursday, October 7, during the night Joice Loch, friend of the Farm School since the early 1920's and friend to hundreds of readers of The Sower down through the years, author, rug designer, educator, Tower dweller and friend of all in the village of Ouranoupolis, died in her sleep. Thus ended a 94-year life which began in Australia and ended with an Orthodox funeral at which Bishop Kallistos Ware from London officiated.

Mrs. Loch, who came to live at the Farm School in 1922 with her husband, Sydney, began her career with a Quaker program resettling refugees from Turkey and Asia Minor. They returned to the School in 1945 following World War II during a period of great dislocation and despair. Joice founded the Girls' School with the British Quakers and revived almost single-handedly the folk art of rug weaving, teaching the students of the Girls' School to weave from her own designs. In Ouranoupolis she had made it possible for the resettled weavers to resume their craft, which has resulted in the creation of the famous "Pyrgos" rugs, made only in Ouranoupolis.

The Lochs spent most of their years in Greece in the Byzantine tower which they restored to habitable condition close to the border between Mt. Athos and Greece. Following Sydney's death in 1954, Mrs. Loch lived out the legend of her life there as writer, benefactor to the people of the village, doctor, mother, sister and hostess.

As a memorial to Mrs. Loch, a committee has been formed to restore and preserve the Tower as a museum and library devoted to local handicrafts. This task has the support of the Greek Ministry of Culture, the Greek Archaeological Service, the Nomarch of Halkidiki and the Village Council of Ouranoupolis.

Memorial gifts may be sent to the School for the Joice Loch Memorial Fund.
